(Patient's Name): _____ understands that it is their responsibility to know their insurance policy and what their insurance policy will cover. Also, it is the patient's responsibility to obtain and bring a referral, if required, from their primary care physician before being seen by the specialist. Without a referral the patient may be responsible for payment of the office visit.

Office policy regarding lab and other test results: we will always let you know about the results of any tests that are ordered. This may be by phone or letter. If you do not hear about the result of your pap, mammogram, blood work, ultrasound, etc., DO NOT ASSUME IT IS NORMAL. We either have not received the report, it has been misplaced or our attempt to communicate the information to you was not successful for some reason. Ask how long it will be before you get the result of your particular tests and call the office if you do not hear from us. In general, it can take up to 4 weeks to get the result of the normal pap, a week or two for routine blood work or mammograms.
